A Mission Sampler of Baja California

A guided, lectured tour of Jesuit, Franciscan and Dominican missions sponsored by CAREM, a non-profit foundation dedicated to the preservation of Baja California history, and conducted by Dr. W. Michael Mathes, internationally recognized authority on Baja California history. The tour will include lectures on board a fully-equipped first-class bus covering the pre-history and early history, explorations and mapping, mission period and post-mission period of Baja California from 6000 BC to 1880. On site lectures will detail the mission visited, and additional information on numerous aspects of the region - natural history, geology, climatology, etc. - will be provided. A mini-course on Baja California, Dr. Mathes will provide ample time for questions and commentaries, and will suggest sources for those interested in further study.

CAREM has, for over 10 years, served as a support organization for the National Institute of Anthropology and History and other official and academic institutions dedicated to historical preservation in Baja California. Through volunteers, CAREM raises funds to aid these projects, sponsor cultural events and lectures, and maintain a growing research library in city of Tecate, B.C. A fully volunteer, non-profit organization, 100% of funds raised go toward these projects. The International Community Foundation of San Diego serves as agent for donations from the United States. Join our lecture-tour and learn the fascinating past of Baja California while contributing to important projects for its preservation.
